Dear Camden County Senior,

I am pleased to announce the Camden County Board of Freeholders is sponsoring its Annual Senior Citizens Health Awareness Fair on Wednesday, September 27th, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. This year the event will take place indoors at the Crowne Plaza Hotel, 2349 Marlton Pike West (Rt. 70), Cherry Hill, NJ 08002. We have moved the event indoors this year due to inclement weather in the past and to ensure a safe and controlled environment for all guests.

The fair is designed to provide information to senior citizens throughout Camden County to learn about all of the services available. Attendees will enjoy a day of free entertainment, food, activities and health screenings with door prizes being awarded throughout the afternoon.

This event is also the kick off for our annual Influenza Program. There is no out of pocket cost for the vaccine.

If you have any questions, please contact Camden County Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Senior & Disabled Services at (856) 858-3220. We look forward to seeing all of you on September 27th to enjoy a full day of wellness activities.

Sincerely,
